

Associate Stories

At Sandoz, our purpose is to pioneer access to affordable and high quality medicines for patients around the world.

We are passionate about fostering a culture that is inclusive and collaborative so our people can do their best work. By valuing diverse perspectives and encouraging a learning mindset, we believe we can be more innovative and ultimately deliver more for our patients and customers around the world.

We understand that our people are our greatest strength at Sandoz, which is why they are encouraged and empowered to shape their careers.
